

Worcester Memories

Celebrating 325 Years

The Worcester Telegram & Gazette is pleased to be working with the Worcester Historical Museum to bring our readers this very special, hard-bound, coffee-table, pictorial book. This heirloom-quality “keepsake” book will feature hundreds of stunning images of Worcester from the 1800s through today.

Share Your Photos!

We are thrilled to give our readers the opportunity to participate in this unique project. If you have photographs of bygone days of the 1800s through today in the Worcester area, would you please share them with us? Bring in your family photos, school photos, street scenes, business photos, event photos, church photos, etc...

Simply bring your photo(s) along with a brief description, your name, phone number and address to one of our public scanning sessions listed below and we will scan them while you wait! Space limitations may prevent us from using every submitted photo in the book. In all cases, we'll return photos unharmed.
